

This guide was created in order to assist potential MLS students in choosing an ALA accredited program for the studies, based of estimated cost for the degree. I went entirely off of the most recent (as of 8/4/21) list of ALA accredited schools. https://www.ala.org/CFApps/lisdir/directory_pdf.cfm If you live in certain states, you may be able to receive in state tuition via academic common market if your state does not have a degree program. NOT ALL Academic Common Market schools support the in-state rate for online or vice versa. See this site for more info and to search for programs available to you based on what state you live in. https://www.sreb.org/academic-common-market
NOTES:
~ APPX DEGREE COST IS THE ESTIMATED COST OF COMPLETING THE ENTIRE DEGREE!! ~ The sheets "IN STATE TUITION" and "OUT OF STATE TUITION" are for ON CAMPUS PROGRAMS. ~ Right click on a column and select "SORT A > Z" to sort the schools by lowest to highest tuition rates. Some rates (schools in canada) are in a different number format, so they may not sort properly.
ONLINE AND OUT OF STATE TUITION FOR SCHOOLS IN CANADA WERE CONVERTED TO USD!
GREEN SHADED CELL = MOST, IF NOT ALL, FEES INCLUDED IN THIS TUITION COST. It is possible that some other rates include fees even though they aren't shaded green. In these instances, it is likely that the University did not specify that fees were included in the rate.
BLUE SHADED CELL (SHADED SCHOOL/LOCATION NAME) = SET ONLINE TUITION RATE FOR EVERYONE
GREY SHADED CELL = This school's tuition is complicated AND/OR outside of US

A. Please note that this was a one person job. There are 63 schools on the ALA accreditation list as of 8/5/21. I don't intend to update this list with new tuition rates.

B. SCHOOL LIBRARIAN degrees are NOT included since they are usually state specific for licensure

C. This spreadsheet should be used as a reference to POTENTIAL costs. TUITION COSTS are NOT 100% accurate due to differences in the way one might progress through their degree program. Calculations are fairly accurate for the specific scenarios that they account for, and can be used as a reference point should one decide to pursue their degree in these manners.

D. Notes regarding sources for information and the ways that the tuition costs were calculated are located within their respective cells.

E. I recommend using the "cost per credit hour" to determine potential costs for your specific degree planning, though this is not always accurate as fees may differ when more credits are taken.

General Calculation Methods:

MOST tuition is calculated using the following methods. Please see the specific cells for notes regarding the calculation method used. !!! SUMMER SEMESTERS MAY HAVE DIFFERENT TUITION RATES. I DID NOT CALCULATE USING SUMMER TUITION RATES !!!

(1 class is TYPICALLY 3 credit hours.)

Cost for 1 class (3 credit hours) was calculated using EITHER:

- a. (cost per credit hour) x (3)
- b. University's listed rate for 3 credit hours (if different from a)

PART TIME TUITION: Full degree cost = (Cost for 1 class) x (# of classes needed for degree) [1]

PART TIME TUITION v2: Full degree cost = (Cost for 6 credits) x (# of semesters) + (any remaining credits) [2]

FULL TIME TUITION: Full degree cost = (Cost for 3 classes) x (# of semesters needed to complete degree) [3]

FULL TIME TUITION v.2: Full degree cost = (Flat rate tuition) x (# of semesters needed to complete degree) [4]

If a school offers flat rate tuition at around ~9 credit, I calculated the fulltime cost as if the student took 12 credits (unless not possible, such as University of Alberta which only allows 6 hours per semester for online students). Please check the notes under "full time" rates to see how I calculated that number

FULL TIME TUITION v.3: Full degree cost = (cost for all full time semester) + (cost for part time semester) [5]

	For example, if the person lives in Alabama and wants to attend, it should return the cheapest online option. The "in state" online rate may not be the cheapest, so it should also consider the out of state online rate and return that if a school is cheaper.
	Likewise, if a person from Alabama wants to attend in person, an Alabama University may not be the cheapest option. If the person is willing to travel, it should consider the cheapest out of state rate if there is an out of state rate cheaper than in state schools.

[1] # of CREDITS is different than number of classes!! A degree that requires 36 credits likely requires 12 classes!

[2] # of CREDITS is different than number of classes!! A degree that requires 36 credits likely requires 12 classes!

[3] see v.3 for how to calculate when a program has a number of credits that result in a semester being < full time (i.e. 39 credit program would be 4 semesters at 9 credits (or 3 semesters at 12) and 1 semester at 3 credits)

[4] not all schools offer flat rate tuition for full time. Schools that do offer flat rate tuition vary in the number of credits before the flat rate applies. Some may apply flat rate at 7 credits, others may apply at 9 etc.

[5] This is used when the number of credits results in a semester not being completed full time. Some may choose to just add the extra credits on to an existing semester. I did not account for this.

[6] This column has the in state and out of state rates combined, so it WILL NOT sort properly. Please see/filter the rates per course as those will be more useful since most courses are 3 credit hours

[7] COST FOR DUAL DEGREE IS NOT INCLUDED IN THIS SPREADSHEET.

DUAL DEGREE = SECOND MASTERS DEGREE

PROGRAMS THAT OFFER SPECIALIZATIONS OR CERTIFICATES ON TOP OF MLS ARE NOT CONSIDERED DUAL DEGREE
